From:

Mr. Manjunath B., aged 41 years,
Machine Operator, Employee Code SPF-0217,
Sri Lakshmi Precision Fabricators,
Peenya Industrial Area, 2nd Stage, Bengaluru 560058

Subject: Non-payment of wages for May to August 2026 and non-deposit of provident fund contributions

Respected Sir / Madam,

1. I have been working as a machine operator with Sri Lakshmi Precision Fabricators, a factory employing about 60 workers, since 3 June 2015. My monthly gross wage is Rs. 21,500.
2. The management has not paid my wages for the months of May, June, July and August 2026, amounting to Rs. 86,000 in total. About 35 other workers of the factory are in the same situation. Whenever we ask, the supervisor tells us that payments from customers are delayed and that we will be paid "soon".
3. Every month, an amount of 12 percent of my basic wage has been shown as deducted towards Employees' Provident Fund in my pay slips. However, when I checked my UAN passbook on the EPFO portal on 2 September 2026, I found that no contributions have been credited to my account since January 2026. The deducted amounts have therefore not been deposited for at least eight months.
4. On 25 August 2026 the management orally informed some of us that the factory may be shut for two months and asked us to sign blank papers, which we refused to do.
5. I request you to kindly: (a) direct the employer to pay my unpaid wages of Rs. 86,000 immediately, along with any compensation payable under law; (b) take action against the employer for deducting provident fund contributions from our wages without depositing them, and refer the matter to the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation; and (c) ensure that no worker is removed from service for making this complaint.

Yours faithfully,

(Manjunath B.)

Enclosures: Copies of pay slips for January to April 2026; UAN passbook printout dated 02.09.2026; identity card.
